I woke up at 7:15 AM, earlier than I expected as I was not asleep at 1:00 AM.

Wrote down my orders for the day to Dr. de Vega and Jaki, Sec. Mulochan and others.

Went through my papers. But clocked on the pending projects especially on cooperatives through U.Sec. for Cooperatives Day and language.

Did not meet any visitors.

Worked on the sequel of Today's Revolution. I have set the end of month as my deadline.

We need a book to answer all the questions that the cynics (including New York Times which had an editorial yesterday calling us and Park Chung Hee of Korea dictators curtailing freedoms) are asking up to now although we have applauded the proclamation of martial law and the reforms.
